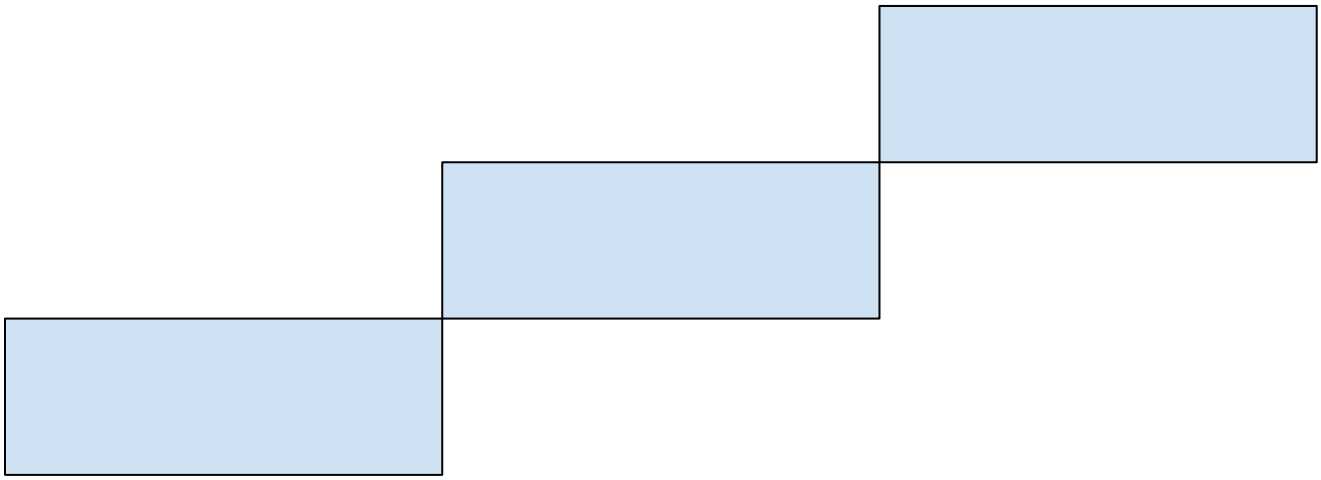
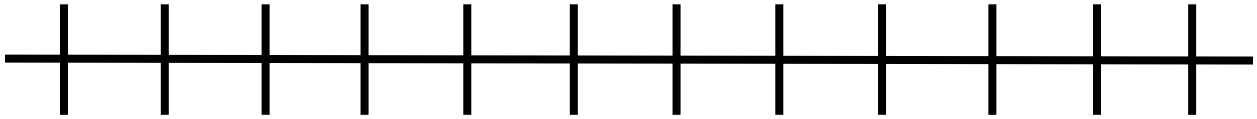
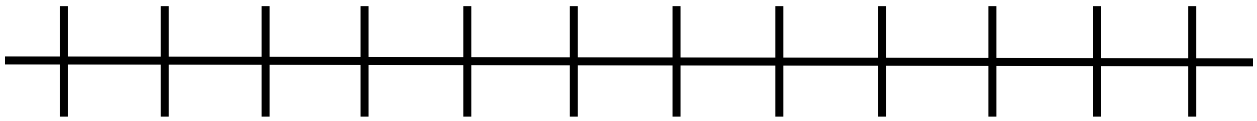
Setting Timelines

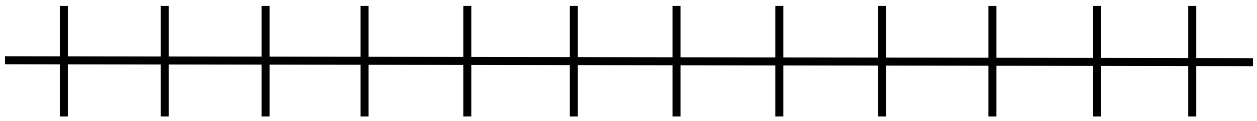
With priorities set, the team will now determine which priority goal to focus on first, and then create a timeline (or series of timelines) that will lay out how each priority goal is met.

The team's priority goals can be seen as a series of steps. Seeing the first step as the most important goal, and the third step as the last priority goal, the team should fill in the steps with priority goals, in order.









Now the team will create a timeline for each of the priority goals. Note that each marker indicates one month in a year (choose to begin with whichever month suits you). Teams may design timelines by increments smaller than one month or as large as multiple months based on the goal and the outcome the goal leads to (timeline templates are on the back of this page).
